Class – Mirage Masters

“I’m breaking down all the masks I wear to hide my lonely heart... But what if I’m just lying to myself?”

Within every human, there resides a peculiar energy, a light of creativity and drive known as Performa. Some creatures are drawn to Performa, seeking to feed on it, killing their victims in the process. However, Performa can be shared willingly: Those with extraordinary wills and enough Performa can open their hearts to these Mirages and bond with them, sharing their energy in exchange for immense power, becoming a rare class of User known as a Mirage Master.

For this Class, consider mentions of Mirages to be equivalent to Personae or Demons.

- ❖ Reincarnation: Once per combat, when a Mirage Master deals the killing blow to a Shadow, they immediately gain one Social Skill Point of their choice.
- ❖ Realization: The first time a Mirage Master achieves a new Social Tier, they gain a benefit based on that Tier, according to the table below. This can only be achieved a number of times indicated on each Tier’s Notes: If a character achieves Tier IV in any Social Skill, for example, they gain the bonus immediately, and will not gain it again if they achieve Tier IV in any other Social Skill, while Tier I has no such limitations.

Social Skill	Effect	Notes
Tier I	Choose one Tier I or II spell in your deck: Gain an extra use of it.	This can be achieved any number of times.
Tier II	Every time your RP is reset, you gain +1 RP.	This can only be achieved twice .
Tier III	You gain one Feat of your choice.	This can only be achieved twice .
Tier IV	Raise your Mirage’s PLv. by 1.	This can only be achieved once .
Tier V	Raise your CLv. by 1.	This can only be achieved once .

- ❖ Encore: The overflowing Performa within a Mirage Master drives them to create and explore constantly. Whenever a Mirage Master gains a permanent boost to their Combat Skills, they also gain a permanent +1 bonus to their maximum Energy.
- ❖ Lordship Over Carnage: At character creation, choose one Mastery Feat (Sword Mastery, Firearm Mastery, etc.): Add it to your character for no cost.
  - In the Metaverse, you can choose to manifest your Mirage as a weapon of the chosen class, as an outfit that visually overrides your equipment, or both. These effects are purely visual.
- ❖ Idolasphere Network: Once per day, when you succeed on a negotiation with a Shadow at the highest possible reward tier, instead of gaining the usual reward, you can choose to set that Shadow as your Contact, earning a favor from that Shadow that can be redeemed once, at any point in the future. When you choose to call upon your Contact, choose from one of the options below. This can only be done outside of combat, and only once per Contact.
  - You can only have one Contact, and must spend that favor or override it with another before gaining a new one.

Favor	Effect
Bullion	You gain RP equal to the RP reward based on your Contact's Level (Core, Page 163)
Master Seal	You gain SP equal to the RP reward based on your Contact's Level (Core, Page 163)
Bag of Tea Leaves	You gain consumables (your choice) of a combined value equal to the RP reward you would have gotten from Bullion . Rarity rolls still apply.
Tome of Saints	You gain a Spell Card of one of your Contact's Types (your choice) of a Tier based on its Level (Core, Page 163)
Love Letter	During a Skill Check, if you choose to Risk a dice, you can call upon this Contact: Do not roll a subtraction dice.
Goddess Statuette	You gain one extra Aspect Point, but it disappears at the end of the current Scene if it's not used.
Shoes of the Wind	As combat starts, you can call upon this Contact to grant any one ally you can see an Initiative score bonus equal to 2 + your highest Social Skill Tier.
Toothed Dagger	This favor can be called upon during combat, and is considered a Quick action: Choose any weapon whose cost is equal to or less than X, where X is equal to double the amount of RP you would have gotten from Bullion . This weapon is equipped to you immediately, replacing any weapon you have equipped. At the end of combat, this weapon disappears.
Aum Staff	This favor can be called upon during combat, and is considered an Interrupt action. If you enter Death's Door, you can call upon this favor and spend 1 Aspect Point: If you do, you are Revived with 10% HP. Penalties from entering Death's Door still apply.
Blazing Emblem	This favor can be called upon during combat, and is considered an Interrupt action: Once an Arcana Spread is activated, you can call upon this Contact and roll 1d12: If the result is a 12, that Spread's use is restored at the end of combat. Outside of combat, that Spread's use is restored at the start of the next Scene. The Contact is spent regardless of the result.

Feats

Name	Effect	Req.	Additional
Carnage Incarnate	If you declare a basic attack with a weapon you have the Mastery Feat for, that weapon's damage treats Null as Resist, and treats Drain and Reflect as Null.	Mirage Master, CLv. 6 or higher	Can only be chosen once.
Natural Talent	Once per Scene, outside of combat, if you succeed at a Skill Check without Risking, gain one Aspect Point.	Mirage Master	Can only be chosen once.

This strange girl is known by most as Tiki, the face of the Uta-Loid voice software. However, she dwells in an area not unlike the Velvet Room, offering visitors a selection of wares and the ability to talk freely to their Mirages. Perhaps her services could be extended to others with powers similar to the Mirage Masters...

Bounties

Due to the rumors regarding Persona Users across Tokyo, the Beholders Technology Hobby Club has developed an underground app to assist the powerless and downtrodden with matters that might require some Metaverse interference: the Bounty Board. Boasting of end-to-end encryption and full anonymity, the Bounty Board connects Users to researchers, allies, rivals and complete strangers with all sorts of request and the funds to see them fulfilled.

Bounties are optional activities presented to Users that can be undertaken during their downtime. Bounties generally take at least one Time block to be completed and have no deadline, unless specified otherwise. A bounty can be “turned in” and the rewards collected as long as all objectives marked as “Required” are finished. Optional Objectives grant extra rewards: They do not replace the standard reward unless specified.

Players are encouraged not to read the “Narrator Notes” sections, as they can spoil interesting mechanics and plot events that can happen during and after Bounties.

Requesters

These are some of the people who might offer new Bounties to the Users. Narrators are encouraged to add new Requesters and Bounties to their games to add variety and new surprises to each campaign.

- ❖ Masaki Deka: Leader of a delinquent gang known as the “Crows of Deka”. She harbors a fierce curiosity about the Metaverse and is the lead writer of Masaki-Sama’s Metazine, a compendium of Shadows and locations within the Metaverse, with information contributed by Users for a modest fee.
- ❖ Pscientist-In-Training: A researcher who prefers anonymity, although his requests might reveal more about him than he realizes. A shy, easily flustered young adult, the Pscientist shows a surprisingly professional side when dealing with his superiors. His dream is to work for the Ikari Technology Consortium, a Research and Development consortium.
- ❖ UTOPIA-000: A figure surrounded by mystery. Their requests are written in flowery, spiraling prose, and their motives often seem entirely random. Their bounties often leave the confines of the Metaverse and lead the Users to complete all sorts of odd jobs.
- ❖ Faraday: A man who describes himself as “a high class businessman”, Faraday is a British-born investor with a keen eye for business and many, many enemies. His Bounties might be challenging, but the cash is hard to turn down.
- ❖ Featherfan_94: An action aficionado looking for her “big break” into show biz. Nothing thrills her more than tales of action, teamwork and men in suits punching each other in quarries. She often needs help sourcing props and coming up with scenes to use in the many scripts she pitches to TV stations across the world.
- ❖ Elizabeth Howard: The heiress of a highly influential Japanese-American family who uses the pseudonym “Lilith” to publish risqué manga. Her requests are oddly specific, but try not to think about them too long.

Metaverse Pockets: Some Bounties take place within “Pockets”, spaces that are isolated from the Metaverse. These can be accessed by the same methods the party uses to enter the Metaverse normally, but Pockets are completely separate from the Metaverse: As a rule of thumb, whatever happens in a Metaverse pocket cannot affect the “main” Metaverse.

Bounty 01 – Welcome to the Board

Recommended Level: 1

“My favorite Bounty Hunters! I assume. I’m writing this before it’s accepted so I can’t tell. Anyway! My girl Hitomi is writing a feature on anomalous Metaverse objects and needs a few supplies, so get to it, chop-chop.”

Requester: Masaki Deka, Breaking in the Newbies

Request Description:

Users must deliver 2x Orb of Life to a drop point, the “Lost and Found” box at Musashimurayama High School. However, these Life Orbs must be acquired from negotiating with Shadows.

- ❖ Once negotiation succeeds at the RP reward or better, Users can choose to forfeit the expected rewards and instead gain 1x Orb of Life.

Objectives:

- ❖ Clean Work (Required): Deliver 2x Orb of Life;
  - Reward: 1x Takemedic-All V;
- ❖ Above and Beyond (Optional): Deliver an extra Orb of Life or another item worth at least 1 RP obtained through negotiation.
  - Reward: 1x Vandalized Musashi Uniform (Armor, 2 DR, grants +4 Courage);

Bounty 31 – Grand Theft Metaverse

Recommended Level: 6

“Well, this is awkward. After my... run-in with Takemi-sensei, I decided to lay low for a while, change fields for a bit. See, my cousin has an auto shop and I assumed that Cognitive Pscience and mechanics couldn’t be that different. Turns out... Well, the shop is closed after 6pm, please hurry!”

Requester: Exasperated Pscientist-In-Training.

Request Description:

The party must venture into a Metaverse Pocket accessed from Shigeno’s Auto Repair Shop and defeat the Shadow within: Chris The Car, a bizarre animated car that mirrors a real vehicle in the Universe.

However, Shigeno does not know about, nor believe in, his cousin’s research, and will not grant the party free range. Users must either break into the shop after hours or find another way to remain in the shop for for some time without being caught or revealing their nature as Persona Users.

The auto shop’s Metaverse Pocket is an indoors figure-8 race track with no exit. This arena is a flat 16x8 square surrounded by bleachers with cheering projections of humans. The Users manifest in the center of this arena, and Chris The Car appears in a space of the Narrator’s choice. During this encounter, Chris has the HP value indicated by parenthesis and has the same resistances as a Tyrant, but no access to Hetelic actions. Accessing this Pocket and spending any amount of time within spends a full Time block. Escape can be attempted like normal, but Users only leave the Pocket once all Users successfully escape.

Objectives:

- ❖ Carmaggedon (Required): Defeat Chris The Car!
  - Reward: Access to the Car Repair System (below);
- ❖ Final D (Optional): Finish the battle with no Users entering Death’s Door.
  - Reward: 2x Sword of Page (Sea of Souls I, Page 11);
- ❖ One Horsepower (Optional): The killing blow must be dealt by a Hierophant Orobas.
  - Reward: 1x Agile Soles (Core, Accessory, +1 AGI);

Car Repair System:

After Chris The Car is defeated, the “curse” is lifted from the Universe version of the car, and Shigeno will promptly dispose of it the following day, and throw his cousin out of the shop. The car is hardly in driving shape initially, but repairs can be performed. Users must invest a total of 15 RP into the car to have it fully repaired by professionals. However, if a User has Tier III Discipline, they can spend a full Time Block to perform repairs themselves, decreasing this cost by 1 RP per block. This cost does not have to be paid in one installment: Users can invest RP in any amount across as many days as they choose.

Once this amount has been paid, Chris becomes a fully usable vehicle that seats up to 5 humans comfortably. As long as the Users are inside Chris, they have access to the “Easy to Miss” Aspect, which might help in avoiding the eyes of authorities. Chris uses a negligible amount of gasoline, requiring no RP upkeep normally, but don’t forget: This car was touched by the Metaverse, and it can be very fickle...

Voracious Thing: All units in combat, including Chris, receive Weakness to Status until the end of Chris's next turn.

"A car that was cursed with sentience by a fledgling Cognitive Pscientist. Does it resent humans for giving it thoughts and anxiety instead of opposing thumbs? I would." – Masaki-sama's Metazine.

Bounty 08 – Reverie of the Radiant Blades

Recommended Level: 4

“A dark wind howls through the [vibrant streets] of Tokyo... You too can feel its influence upon the peasantry, can you not? [Those who value] the wisdom of worlds beyond struggle to find meaning. Offer them a helping hand, o ye [charging, savage] knights of the Metaverse.”

Requester: Kind Regards, UTOPIA-000

Request Description:

❖ This is a time-sensitive Bounty! Narrators are strongly encouraged to read the Narrator Notes block below. After some deliberation, you manage to puzzle out UTOPIA’s request: Visit the BOOP Akihabara videogame store and secure the last copy of Exoblade Chronicles III, a famous RPG title that had its physical release recalled worldwide. The man working at the counter, however, is a fickle and arrogant collector who refuses to even acknowledge they have the game in stock, hoping to sneak it out of the store before the next inventory check-up. The clerk is an NPC with the “Well, Actually...” and “Wiry Build” Aspects. He’s somewhat resistant to intimidation and will not accept bribes. Users are free to choose the approach they find more suitable with the clerk, or find another way to reach the shop’s storage room and nab the game. Once obtained, the game can be delivered at Locker 45-C at the Ginza train station.

Objectives:

- ❖ Deliverance (Required): Secure and deliver the game;
  - Reward: 1x Brink Tea (Core, Consumable);
- ❖ Charge of the Luminous (Optional): Hidden.
  - Reward: All Users involved in this Bounty gain a permanent +4 Charm pts.;

Narrator Notes:

- ❖ From when the Bounty is first made available, Users have until 23:59 of the following day to secure the game. Failing to do so will fail the Bounty and make it permanently unavailable. Make sure to communicate this to your players.
- ❖ The highlighted sections in the Bounty description are clues left by UTOPIA to disguise his real intentions: The game was never meant for him, rather a cashier at Wild Boar Tokyo, a trendy clothing store. “Charging, Savage” references the store’s mascot cartoon boar, “vibrant streets” denote the district where the store is located, and “those who value” is a very distant reference to the cashier. Delivering the game to the station locker is only enough to fulfill the Required Objective. Whenever a new player investigates the Bounty description, prompt a Difficulty 3 Expression check from them, once per player. On a success, explain that the game must be delivered to the cashier before the deadline. They work at Wild Boar during the Afternoon and Evening blocks, so make sure the players have enough time to figure this out and navigate to the store for the “Charge of the Luminous” reward.

Bounty 23 – Pickup and Delivery

Recommended Level: 10

“Simple moving job. A package will be delivered to the coordinates attached. You are to pick it up and install it in a Metaverse Pocket of my choosing. Do not disappoint me.”

Requester: Faraday.

Request Description:

The party must pick up a large crate at a container rental station in downtown Tokyo and transport it into the Metaverse. The Bounty includes permission slips for pickup and removal, but does not mention anything of transport or means to open the box once it is delivered. The box is wooden, approximately 1mx1mx2m and weighs 150kg (or 330lbs).

Metaverse Pocket: A deep jungle as far as the eye can see. Users enter this Pocket a few meters away from a large, Mayan-style rock pyramid that is 10x10 meters on its base and has gradual steps upwards until the apex platform(these steps are marked by horizontal lines on the map below). Each stone “block” is approximately 2 meters tall at their highest point, but carved with steps that allow easy movement.

- ❖ Carrying the crate up the pyramid would be an exhausting endeavor, spending 2d4 Energy per block traveled upwards, divided equally among all Users participating in the moving.

Traversing up or down the pyramid on the Steps is considered normal, unhindered movement. Moving up or down “floors” through the non-Step blocks requires a Strength (7) / Agility (7) check and requires a standard action, unless the User has an effect that allows for flight or similar movement.

Once the box is transported into the Metaverse, it must be opened from the front, which is clearly labeled, by any means the Users find necessary. Once open, the contents are revealed: a prototype Suppressor modeled after the Shadow known as Alice. This Suppressor cannot attack and is not equipped with any combat modules. It becomes active the moment the crate is opened, and will move on its own accord towards the top of the Pyramid if it hasn’t been transported there. Consider the Suppressor’s stats as below.

HP	STR	MAG	TEC	AGI	VIT	LCK
135	0	0	0	6	6	0

The Suppressor has no Damage Reduction or Type interactions. As soon as it reaches the top of the pyramid, it enters an immobile surveying mode and will only react to dodge attacks if needed. As soon as the Suppressor enters this mode, all Users must roll for initiative. Four Shadows will spawn in the Pocket: Star Hanuman, Star Ananta, Aeon Ouroboros and Devil Vetala, all Level 10 using their standard Core stat blocks.

- ❖ These Shadows can only climb upwards on Step blocks and will be immediately hostile against Users and the Suppressor, and negotiating with these Shadows incurs a -3 penalty;
- ❖ Each Shadow has a 50% chance to attack the Suppressor if it is in range at the start of its turn;
  - The Suppressor can roll to dodge these attacks;
- ❖ Hitting a Weakness of these Shadows or scoring a Critical hit against them moves them down to the base of the Pyramid;
- ❖ When one of these Shadows is defeated, another one of the same species appears on the base of the Pyramid at the end of the next round after the original was defeated;

If the Suppressor’s HP reaches zero, it violently explodes and the Shadows disappear, failing the Bounty.

This battle goes on for 1d4+4 full rounds. At the end of the final round, the Suppressor releases a wave of energy that instantly slays any hostile Shadows in the Pocket and promptly shuts down. It provides a data disk with its findings and will no longer move. It can be carried back to the Universe, but the main objective is the data disk. As soon as the disk is inserted into a computer in the Universe, it’ll automatically upload its data to Faraday, and the Bounty will be considered completed.

Objectives:

- ❖ Delivery Completed (Required): Escort the “package” to the Metaverse and report the results of your survey to Faraday.
  - Reward: MP2 Prototype (Core, Firearm) or 5 RP (chosen by the party);
- ❖ Overtime (Optional): Defeat at least 5 Shadows while defending the Suppressor.
  - Reward: All Users who participated in this Bounty gain +5 Courage pts.;
- ❖ Asset Recovery (Optional): Deliver the Suppressor back to the container rental depot.
  - Reward: 1x Advantage Point AP Rounds (Weapon Coating, Sea of Souls I);

Bounty 16 – Lightning Action! Showdown of the Evil Fairy!

Recommended Level: 8

“Rangers, gather ‘round! There’s been sightings of an Niflheim-class Kaiju at the following coordinates. Take flight and take this miscreant down!”

Requester: Heroically, Featherfan_94!

Request Description:

Users must enter a Metaverse Pocket and defeat Jacked Frost, a powerful and aggressive Shadow.

Metaverse Pocket: An 8x8 arena made out of stone, surrounded by a fierce blizzard on all sides. There are four pillars in the arena that are wide and tall enough for Users to hide behind. If there’s a pillar between the User and Jacked Frost, Jacked Frost cannot choose that User as a valid target for Psycho Rage.

Users that step into the Blizzard must make a dodge check. If the result of this check is lower than 20, they take 25 Ice damage, while players who roll 20 or more take 12 Ice damage. Regardless of the result, the User is then pushed back into the arena, at the nearest valid space outside of the blizzard. If Jacked Frost is moved into the blizzard, it immediately loses half its current HP, no check.

Objectives:

- ❖ Mission Complete! (Required): Defeat Jacked Frost.
  - Reward: 2x Hailstorm Spell Card (Core, Miscellaneous Spell, pg. 142). Each User who participated in combat gains 1000 Exp;
- ❖ Dramatic Reversal! (Optional): Force Jacked Frost to take damage from the blizzard at least once.
  - Reward: Mint-Flavored Proteins (allows Users to fuse Jacked Frost);

Bounty 11 – Envoys of Beauty

Recommended Level: 12

“Darlings! Your favorite indie artist is busy and needs your capable, soft hands. I got a pretty premium spot in a vending machine alley in Roppongi, but I need to know if the machine is working properly. That’s where you come in! Just drop by, grab a few magazines, and let me know. But... Let’s keep this one between us, okay?”

Requester: Mischievous Elizabeth “Lilith” Howard~

Request Description:

The party must venture to Roppongi and locate a peculiar “romance light novels” vending machine and purchase some of the works within. This machine is located in a Scene with the “Shady Alley” and “Unusually Busy Foot Traffic” Aspects. Additionally, somehow, the Users will come across increasingly bizarre interlopers. For every magazine the Users attempt to buy, roll 1d6:

1. Machine Jam: The vending machine glitches out, please don’t mind the banging noises as it reboots. Roll 1d6 again, and increase the difficulty of the next check for this Bounty by 1.
2. Obsessive Fan: One of Lilith’s fans, a diehard otaku who will not rest until he has every last copy of her works. Intimidating and driving him off requires a Discipline (4) / Strength (9) check.
3. Morality Police: An old lady who’s staunchly against all sorts of “degenerate” media. She will not be convinced of the artistic value of Lilith’s works, and must be distracted with a Charm (5) / Technique (9) check.
4. Actual Police: Should you even be handling this type of material?! This easygoing but concerned member of the force can be distracted with an Empathy (4) / Magic (8) check.
5. Hitomi Mitsuhiro: Lead DJ of the local pirate radio, Hitomi finds a group of weirdos huddled around a sleazy mag machine really funny. She’s terrible at keeping secrets, so keeping her from finding out about your goals requires an Expression (5) / Luck (5) check.
6. Lucky Break: The streets are oddly quiet. No interlopers show up;

Only one User can perform the rolled check, and this check cannot be assisted. On a success, nothing happens and the interloper leaves. If a User fails the check, they lose 1 Energy during the attempt. If the same result is rolled more than once, the same interloper appears again, and the difficulty of their checks is increased by 1 each time.

Objectives:

- ❖ Red Rivers (Required): Buy at least 3 magazines.
  - Reward: 1x Risqué Lolita Dress (Armor, 1 DR, +6 to dodge checks, Charm Tier +1);
- ❖ Second (Optional): Do not fail any of the required checks.
  - Reward: 2x Enchanting Allure (Status, Tier III, Core Page 131) Spell Card;
