Welcome to the Sea of Souls! This document compiles the second 2023 batch of official add-ons released for the Grimoire of Heart starting from the 4.8.1 update.

This content was written and balanced to be on-par with the core Grimoire content, but can be more mechanically advanced than core content. Make sure your Narrator allows Sea of Souls content before using it.

If you somehow have this document and not the core Grimoire release, you can download it here.

As always, a big thank-you to everyone in our Discord server for contributing concepts and feedback for the Sea of Souls!

Class Variant – Humanity Companions (Shadows)

“REBOOTING. STARTING NEURAL NETWORK... OK. ALL SYSTEMS OK.

What would you like me to become?”

The Metaverse can be a dangerous, deadly place, full of untold secrets and potentially endless power. Exploring it without risking human lives has long been the goal of many scientists, as evidenced by Suppressors and similar advancements in cognitive technology. However, some take a different approach: Creating beings that are half-soul, half-data, programmable and malleable, fully equipped to explore the depths of the human heart and assist humans to achieve their full potential. These are the rare, but notorious, Humanity Companions.

Mechanically, Humanity Companions are treated as Shadow Users, but with the following class features instead of the Shadows’:

- ❖ Digital Form: Humanity Companions do not have access to Shadow Users’ distinct forms, but their digital nature allows them to inhabit computers and similar devices for some time. Once per Scene, Humanity Companions can dispel their physical form and inhabit one device they can physically touch. This device must be unlocked, meaning it cannot be secured by any physical locks or passwords before being inhabited. Once inside the device, Companions can remain there indefinitely, inhabiting an idealized space that supplies all their basic needs. The Companion can communicate with the outside world with any outputs in the device, such as screens or speakers, and can opt to leave the device at any time, even if the device becomes locked or damaged.

- ❖ Cognitive Processor: Companions have a separate spell deck, independent from their Personae’s. These decks start empty and can be used even if the User can’t currently manifest their Personae. Additionally, Companions start the game with 3 Virtual Spell Points, explained below.

- ❖ Upgrade: When a Companion gains a new Character Level, they gain 2 Virtual Spell Points. Companions can use Virtual Spell Points to copy spells from the decks of any other consenting User, and add it to their separate spell decks, ignoring Type restrictions. Companion deck spells can be refunded under the same rules as normal spells, for Virtual SP.

- ❖ Interface: The mixed digital-cognitive nature of Companions grants them certain control over their powers: You can Repress 1 Active spell use in your deck to apply the effect described on the table in the next page. Unlike other spell-related features, this can be used outside of the Metaverse.

Type	Effect
Physical	Choose one object or structure: You can carve or damage solid materials, while carefully controlling the degree of damage. However, causing structural damage that threatens the object's stability is still possible.
Fire	You can increase the temperature around you, which is generally enough to warm up a small room to an uncomfortable degree, singe flammable objects or overheat electronics.
Ice	You can decrease the temperature around you, which is generally enough to cool down a small room to an uncomfortable degree, freeze small patches of liquid matter or cover small sections of the floor in slippery frost.
Wind	You can control the direction and intensity of the wind, even if you are indoors, and gently influence the weather. Controlling the direction of the wind can also be used to muffle sounds or soften a hard fall.
Thunder	You can temporarily jolt electronic devices into jamming, give batteries some extra charge or drain batteries dry.
Nuclear	You can see through unshielded materials, such as wooden walls or non-reinforced concrete.
PSY	You can perform slight tricks on people and animals, such as drawing their attention to a specific spot, distracting them from their current task, or even scaring them off.
Light	You can intensify light sources to the point of being blinding or temporarily alter someone's perception of brightness and color.
Dark	You can dim light sources to the point of penumbra and mask your position against possible trackers.
Heal	You can repair objects (as long as most parts of them are still present in some capacity), mend clothes, reinforce simple structures or stabilize wounded people.

The uses described above are merely suggestions. It's best to think of these features as something similar to Aspects: Free-form abilities that can be used creatively, as long as you can reasonably justify their use.

Class Variant – Tensei (Beacons)

“Ah, young master! I'm so glad to be able to serve you again! I, Yamaoka, will defeat anyone who would stand in your way!”

Those with the Potential can come back from grievous injury and certain doom, but Death isn't the end even for those with strong enough wills, regardless of Potential. The urge to protect and remain at a loved one's side can push one's soul to linger in the real world, becoming a guardian angel or a powerful ally. Those who wield these guardians as Personae are known as Tensei, the Reincarnated.

Mechanically, Tensei are treated as Beacons, but with the following class features instead of the Beacons':

- ❖ I Will Protect You: Your Starter Persona takes the approximate form of someone you share a strong bond with who's already departed. This can include non-human forms. Each even Character Level you gain, starting at level 2, your Persona subtly grows, gaining new features. Choose a non-Tyrant, non-Ultimate Shadow from the bestiary whose Level is lower than or equal to your Character Level, then your Starter Persona gains SP equal to the Level of Shadow you chose. Once you do that, choose one of the following features:
 - ❖ Choose one Type from the Persona you chose, and add it to the Type list of your Persona. If this would make it so your Persona has more than 4 Types, remove one of your Persona's Types before adding a new one. You still keep spells of that Type;
 - ❖ Choose one Type interaction of that Shadow, except Neutral: Add that interaction to your Starter, then choose another Type and change your Persona's interaction to this second Type to Weak;
- ❖ Warding Wings: When creating a Tensei, create an Accessory named <Starter Persona's> Protection that only you can equip. Choose one effect below and grant it to your Accessory. You can add extra effects to this Accessory when you reach CLv. 5, 10, 15 and 20. Each effect can only be chosen once, and all effects stack.

+1 to any Combat Skill	+10 HP	+2 Energy
+4 to any Social Skill	Auto-Rakukaja, Sukukaja or Tarukaja	+1 Aspect Point Max.
<Element> Boost	Evade <Element>	+2 Damage Reduction

- ❖ Final Threshold: When you start your turn in Death's Door, you can spend 1 Death's Door counter: Until the end of your turn, you cannot be revived, but you can perform a default action normally.

Cosmic Spells

Cosmic spells deal Nuclear damage and are considered Nuclear spells for features that specify spell Types. If an effect or feature affects Nuclear spells, it also affects Cosmic spells. However, effects that specifically denote “Cosmic Category spells” do not affect Nuclear spells that lack this Category.

Most Cosmic spells are centered around a resource called Stars. Stars are treated as Counters for features that generically reference Counters. You start each combat with zero Stars and lose unspent Stars when combat ends. Stars are visually represented by small constellations that orbit around the User.

Feats

Name	Effect	Req.
Cosmic Alchemist's Ploy	As a Quick action, you can detonate any number of Stardust Motes you created, and any number of spaces under the effect of Nebula Cloud. This detonation removes the effect from that space, and applies this Feat's effect to targets in that space and adjacent to that space. For each unit that would be affected by this Feat, choose: ❖ Target recovers HP equal to your MAG. ❖ Target takes Nuclear damage equal to your MAG (no dodge check).	Can only be chosen once. Your Persona must have the Nuclear Type to activate this Feat.
King's Decree	When a Tier II or higher Buff effect on you ends or is removed by a Removal effect, you can spend your Interrupt action and Energy equal to that Buff Effect's Tier: Cast a lower Tier Mono Category Buff effect from your deck.	Can only be chosen once. Your Persona must have the Buff Type to activate this Feat.
Lady's Aromatic	As a Quick action, you can select one Shadow suffering from at least one Status effect: Swap places in the initiative queue with that target. This takes effect at the start of the next round.	Can only be chosen once. Your Persona must have the Status Type to activate this Feat.
Young Prince's Potential	As a Quick action, you can spend one Active spell use from your deck: Recover one use of a Miscellaneous spell in your deck of one Tier higher than the spent use (max. Tier III).	Can only be chosen once.
Palace's Ward	If you Reflect or Drain damage due to the effects of a Defense spell, that spell deals 30% more damage for the purposes of Reflecting and Draining.	Can only be chosen once.

Shadow Hordes

Hordes function similarly to regular Shadows, with a few key differences:

- ❖ Hordes always ignore negotiation and cannot be obtained by Fusion;
- ❖ Hordes are treated as one unit in the initiative queue that can attack a number of times based on their current HP: At 100% HP, they can perform four attacks per turn, losing 1 attack for each 25% HP they lose. Horde HP thresholds are marked in parenthesis next to their max HP;
- ❖ Hordes occupy four adjacent spaces in the map, in any configuration, and always move as one unit. Similar to their attack allowance, Hordes occupy one space less for every 25% HP lost;
- ❖ Casting a Multi spell allows you to select a single Horde as the target two times, while Total spells allow you to select a Horde as the target up to three times. Area spells deal damage to Hordes two times: Once for the main damage, then once for the “adjacent target” damage;
- ❖ Hordes reward 4x the normal Experience Points for their level;
